AIR BASES ORDER 3750.1E, Ch 1, 2

From: Commander
To: Distribution List
Subj: AVIATION SAFETY PROGRAM
Ref: (a) OPNAVINST 3750.6Q

1. Purpose. To promulgate policy for the Aviation Safety Program as per instructions set forth in the reference.

2. Cancellation. ABO 3750.1D.

3. Background. The primary mission of the subordinate commands of Marine Corps Air Bases Western Area (MCABWA) is the support of tenant Fleet Marine Force (FMF) and Marine Aircraft Group (MAG) 46 aviation units through provision of services and facilities. An effective Aviation Safety Program within these commands shall:

a. Be directed toward an effort to prevent contribution by any support services or facilities to an aircraft mishap.

b. Be designed to provide immediate response to emergency situations through the operation of an effective and tested pre-mishap plan.

c. Include a vigorous and continuing accident prevention and mishap reporting effort within the organizations assigned reporting custody of command aircraft.

4. Information. While certain individuals are assigned specific responsibilities within this Order, the accomplishment of the overall Aviation Safety Program goal hinges on the fact that Aviation Safety is always an "all hands" evolution. Every member of this command is expected to contribute to the achievement of the ultimate aim of the Aviation Safety Program, which is the ~~elimination of the preventable aircraft mishap~~. preservation of human and material resources.

5. Action. The individuals listed below will accomplish the actions indicated:

a. Commanding General, Marine Corps Air Station (MCAS) El Toro; Commanding Officers, MCASs Yuma, <sup>Miramar</sup> ~~Tustin~~ and Camp Pendleton. and publish with 1st Trainer Publish directives as necessary to implement the policy outlined in paragraph 3 above. Maintain a comprehensive Aviation Safety Program tailored to local requirements. Directives comprising a pre-mishap plan, details of the duties of the Aviation Safety Officers, inspections/surveys of facilities and assigned responsibilities of departments involved in flight operations will be included.

b. Director of Safety

(1) Advise and make recommendations to the Commanding General on aviation safety matters.

(2) Conduct formal inspections of subordinate commands.

(3) Make staff visits and maintain close liaison with subordinate commands, conduct informal, courtesy inspections on request.

(4) Coordinate, direct and supervise the aviation safety and ground safety programs.

(5) Provide command representation at all area aviation safety and ground safety councils and coordinate the MCABWA area councils.

(6) Maintain close liaison with other staff officers to ensure awareness in all areas pertaining to aviation and ground safety.

c. Aviation Safety Officer. Under the cognizance of the Director of Standardization and Safety (DOSS).

(1) Develop, organize and manage the administration of the Aviation Safety Program with a direction toward hazard detection and elimination in order to prevent aviation mishaps.

(2) Conduct staff visits and courtesy/formal inspections of airfield facilities to determine compliance with directives and assist with identification of aviation safety problems.

(3) Make liaison with counterparts at airfield facilities, wing, adjacent, senior and subordinate commands as necessary to exchange information and promote mishap prevention.

(4) Disseminate information, as required, to support the prevention of mishaps; maintain a high level of safety awareness among flight crew personnel.

(5) Conduct a 1 day semiannual review of safety programs and procedures as they pertain to their role in support of FMF elements. Safety standdowns may be incorporated in these reviews as mission requirements dictate. Emphasis is to be placed on organizational function and supervisory responsibility down to the lowest level.

31 Aug 90

(a) Functions and procedures not contributing to safe operational readiness shall be reviewed for modification or elimination. Attention must be given to areas which have consistently produced the greatest problems.

(b) One of the two reviews or standdowns will be conducted during the first 2 weeks after return from the Christmas vacation.

(6) Serve as member of Aircraft Accident Board; conduct accident investigation training for the Aircraft Accident Board.

(7) Maintain an accident investigation kit.

(8) Ensure currency of the pre-mishap plan.

(9) Keeps the DOSS advised of aviation safety matters requiring attention.

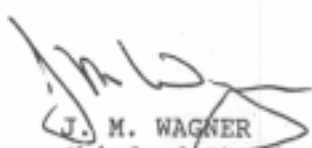

d. NATOPS Officer. Under the staff cognizance of the DOSS: Conduct staff visits and courtesy/formal inspections of the NATOPS programs of subordinate commands to ensure compliance with current directives and provide a cross-feed of information.

e. Ground Safety Officer. Under the cognizance of the DOSS:

(1) Develop, organize and manage the administration of the Ground Accident Prevention Program for all operations and activities under the command or administrative jurisdiction of the Commanding General.

(2) Provide staff advisory and inspection services.

(3) Provide services to include ground safety program management, accident prevention and control measures; accident investigation, analysis and reporting, safety education and promotion, occupational health and sanitation education, and surveys, consultation and coordination on all ground related safety matters on request.
